GEORGY CLASS LANTERN.

Where electric current is available, there is no difficulty with a Class Lantern, as special electric glow lamps are now available which will work off the ordinary house current, and can be switched on and off as easily as the ordinary electric bulb lamps.

No attention whatever is needed, the Slides merely require putting into the carrier in succession, and the current switching off at the end of the class.

The price of a Lantern suitable for class work is very low, and the cost of maintenance nothing but the price of a new bulb when the old one is worked out. Prices can be quoted on request, but the exact amount depends on the voltage of current, size of room, etc.

Where electric current is not available, the same Lantern can be arranged to burn dissolved acetylene, which gives no trouble, mess, or smell, and after about 18 lectures of an hour each a “refill” only cost 6s.

INDIA

By C. H. K. MARTIN, M.A., Senior History Master, Eton College
Prepared for the Visual Instruction Committee of the Royal Colonial Institute.
This exceedingly fine group of Slides, with descriptive notes, will be found of special value in illustrating the vastness of India, its wonderful architecture, its great varieties of race, and some of the characteristics of the Indian peoples and religions.
Of India’s industrial development and of her present government little has been said; the more picturesque sides of Indian life have been mainly illustrated.

The total number of Slides will be found sufficient for two Lectures, but sections may be taken separately or grouped in any order desired.

Section A. Peoples of India.
Section B. Geography of India.
Section C. The Religion of India and the Mogul Empire.
Section D. Northern Frontier and the Mountains.

Reference to “India” in these Lectures are to the book of Eight Lectures prepared by Sir H. J. MacKinder, detailed on pages 380-384.

IMPERIAL GEOGRAPHICAL TEACHING SCHEME
arranged by the Visual Instruction Committee of the Royal Colonial Institute.

Continued.

In view of the success that has attended the publication of the previous courses of Empire Lectures, detailed on the foregoing pages, Messrs. Newton are particularly glad to announce the preparation of an entirely new series of six Lectures on Tropical Africa.

The notes have been written by W. H. Barker, B.Sc. (reader in Geography in the University of Manchester), and the sets are grouped under the following headings:

TROPICAL AFRICA.
1. Geographical conditions.
2. Exploration, historical and political development.
3. Gambia, Sierra Leone and Gold Coast.

NEW ZEALAND.

An additional Lecture Set has been prepared on New Zealand, the notes for which have been written by Willis T. G. Arey.

A Series of 110 Slides grouped in ten sections under the following titles:

Section 1. Introductory, General character, Discovery.
Section 2. Physiography and Climate.
Section 4. The Maoris.
Section 5. Chief Towns and Ports.

Section 6. Products and Industries.
Section 7. Railways and Small Centres.
Section 8. Water-Power, Hydro-Electric Scheme.
Section 9. Scenery.

Full details of the above sets will be sent on application.

It is gratifying to know there are now more than 80 sets of the Visual Instruction Committee's Lectures available either for purchase or for hire, and it is the intention of the Committee to continue to add to the series.

The Lectures have been published in order to provide the means of giving as vivid and accurate knowledge as possible of the geography, the social life, and the economic possibilities of the component parts of the British Empire.

Now that these important features have been so attractively visualized it is hoped that the Lectures will be the means of promoting a greater interest in the growth and development of the Empire, and that students will continue to interest themselves in the subject after they have left school.

LANTERN SLIDES.

Owing to our specializing in the production of Lantern Slides we have attained a standard of work which is unequaled in quality, and as we make use in our London Studios of several private processes, we are able to suit the process to the subject, so that our slides are mostly far superior to the usual trade productions, being clearer, brighter, sharper in definition, more transparent and more artistic.

In the same way our painting, being done by a large staff of the finest slide artists of the day, employed exclusively on our work, and using processes invented and perfected by ourselves, is of a class unobtainable elsewhere.

New sets on Medical and Health subjects now ready.

For new slides on Geography see Supplementary List.
